INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

- ON 1/5 SCALE SPAD XIII

1. Test-position each gun with its 'feet' (or mounting base) downward. When you are comfortable with the position of the guns, drill small holes (with an approx. 1/16-inch drill bit) from inside the cowl into the base of each of the 'feet.' Use 5-minute epoxy to secure the guns to the cowl; make sure the epoxy penetrates each hole as well as the feet of the guns. (Optional: You may add a small wood screw from inside the cowl through each hole and into the feet of each gun to ensure long-term mounting reliability.)
2. Test-position the barrel-shaped gun sight and mark where its mounts touch the cowl. Cut a snug hole to insert each of the gun sight's mounts. Position the barrel-shaped sight's mounts through these holes and secure them to the cowl with 5-minute epoxy. Use the same method to mount the cross-hair, front sight. When the epoxy has thoroughly cured, grind off the portions of the gun sights which project downward, into the cowl.
3. If you use optional cabane wires, as you slide the cowl into position, lower each gun's cocking-lever (you may need to slightly loosen the guns' cocking lever's mounting screws) for extra clearance below where the cabane wires cross-over in front of the windshield. Once the cowl is correctly positioned you may return the cocking-levers to their upward position.
